

Associate Veris Investments

The company

Veris Investments is an independent investment company that makes equity and mezzanine investments in companies and projects with activities in the food value chain in Sub-Saharan Africa. By providing long-term capital and hands-on support to companies and projects, we aim to build successful businesses in close cooperation with the management. Through investing in the development of a strong and competitive private food sector, our goal is to make a positive impact on food security in the region.

The position

As an Associate at Veris, you will take on a vital role in our team of 15 professionals. We are hands-on involved in our portfolio companies, have a broad experience in transactions and in building and scaling businesses as a team. This role offers a unique blend of investment activities, including the sourcing and appraisal of potential deals or greenfield investments, as well as hands on involvement in the company advising and supporting management to drive long term company value.

We are looking to expand our team with an Associate with 2-4 years of relevant work experience. The ideal candidate takes ownership of driving strategic projects at a portfolio company or developing and constructing large CAPEX expansions. Broad skills and understanding of business and finance as well as CAPEX and strategic projects is essential to be successful in this role. Technical understanding of the plants, processing and supply-and demand and a practical approach to implementation is a plus.

“Walking into our new and fully operational processing plant in Zambia for the first time was an incredible moment. What started as a rough idea on paper is now – less than a year later - making a real impact on the business and therefore strengthening the food value chain in Zambia. That’s something that I am proud of!”

- Rikus de Lange (senior associate Veris Investments)
